Accelerated Pathway Programs and Specialized Combined Degrees - Accelerated Pathway Programs

The Master of Business Administration (MBA) under Accelerated Pathway Programs should read:

Master of Business Administration (MBA)
Maximum number of graduate hours accepted - 9 hours

Students may select up to 9 hours from the following courses:

- BUSN 5000 Business (3 hours) (only for students not completing an ACBSP-accredited undergraduate degree)
- MBA 5010 Value Creation (3 hours)
- MBA 5020 Quantitative Methods for the MBA (3 hours)

Students who have completed an ACBSP-accredited undergraduate program at Webster are eligible for a 6 hour reduction of electives toward the MBA and a BUSN 5000 waiver, reducing the number of required credit hours to 30 (minimum of 24 at the graduate level).

Note: The MBA may be a good choice for any student wishing to go into a management role in their field, regardless of major/minor. Students from majors other than BSBA or BS Finance should complete BUSN 5000, MBA 5010 and MBA 5020. Students completing the BSBA or BS Finance should complete MBA 5010 and MBA 5020, as BUSN 5000 is waived for them.

LEGL 4310 Commercial Arbitration (3)

This course provides a comprehensive overview of the principles, procedures, and legal frameworks governing commercial arbitration. Students will examine the key concepts and practices of arbitration as an alternative dispute resolution mechanism. The course will cover topics such as the arbitration agreement, the arbitral tribunal, the arbitration process, the recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards, and differences in these processes in differing national or regional contexts. Prerequisites: Junior standing, LEGL 2400 or POLT 2400, or permission of the department chair.

LEGL 4320 Comparative Banking and Finance Law (3)

This course provides an in-depth examination of banking and finance law from a comparative perspective, focusing on the legal frameworks and regulations governing financial institutions and transactions in different jurisdictions. Students will explore the similarities and differences in banking and financial laws across various countries and regions, considering the impact of globalization and international financial standards. The course covers topics such as banking regulation, financial markets, international finance, and the legal aspects of financial products and transactions. Prerequisites: Junior standing, LEGL 2400 or POLT 2400, or permission of the department chair.

LEGL 4330 Corporate Governance (3)

This course explores the legal frameworks, principles, and challenges surrounding corporate governance in an international context. Students will examine the roles and responsibilities of key stakeholders, including directors, shareholders, and regulators, and analyze the impact of corporate governance on business ethics, accountability, and sustainable development. The course will also address emerging issues and trends in international corporate governance. Prerequisites: Junior standing, LEGL 2400 or POLT 2400, or permission of the department chair.

LEGL 4340 International and Comparative Employment Law (3)

This course examines and contrasts the context of employment relations in various countries, including economic, historical, legal, social, and political contexts. This course further examines and compares the roles of key stakeholders and the various processes of employment relations, including collective bargaining and arbitration, consultation, and employee involvement. Prerequisites: LEGL 2400 or POLT 2400, or permission of the department chair.

LEGL 4920 Global Business Law and Regulation (3)

This capstone course provides an opportunity for students to apply the knowledge and skills acquired throughout their legal studies to practical situations in the context of global business. The course will emphasize practical exercises and simulations to develop students' abilities to conduct legal research, draft legal documents, use law office software, summarize depositions, draft interrogatories, and effectively communicate with potential employers. Students will create a comprehensive portfolio showcasing their work and skills, including examples of legal research, legal documents, and an employment cover letter and résumé. The course will also incorporate mock interviews to help students gain confidence in articulating their legal abilities and achievements to potential employers. Prerequisite: Senior standing.

International Law (LLB)

The Bachelor of Laws of International Law (LLB) degree page should read:

This program is offered by the College of Humanities and Social Sciences/Law, Crime and Social Justice Department. It is available in person at Webster University Tashkent.

Program Description

The Bachelor of Laws in International Law is designed to help graduates enter the legal profession outside of the United States. We offer a solid, broad-based education including legal specialty courses. Students will learn both the theoretical and practical aspects of the law as they gain knowledge and an understanding of the ethical framework in which legal professionals function.

Note: This degree is not approved by the American Bar Association.

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students will be able to:

- Acquire knowledge, understanding and application of fundamental legal concepts and principles;
- Evaluate the foundations of the international legal environment;
- Demonstrate knowledge of primary legal holdings within the field of international law;
- Differentiate legalities between national law systems and structures;
- Describe and critically evaluate key substantive and procedural concepts in public and private law;
- Apply relevant law to real cases and offer reasoned opinions supported by the legal ecosystem; and
- Demonstrate transferable skills in legal research, writing, problem-solving and communication.

Special Requirements

Courses completed with a grade below a C- do not count toward fulfilling the specific course requirements of the major.

Transfer Policy: Transfer students may apply up to 15 credit hours of approved international law coursework from other colleges/universities. A student may obtain advanced standing for legal specialty courses through the transfer of credits from other academic institutions if that program is in substantial compliance, regionally accredited, approved by an appropriate legal authority, and otherwise meets the standards established by Webster University. In the case of transfer credit, the program director reviews student transcripts and a course description from the institution which awarded the credits and makes a determination as to 1) whether the institution which awarded the credits is accredited at a level substantially equivalent to Webster University; 2) whether the credits were awarded as part of a program substantially the equivalent to the Webster University's International Law Program; 3) whether the specific course appears to cover substantially the same material, including practical assignments; and 4) whether the specific course involves the same number of semester hours as the equivalent course at Webster University. In the event the program director is satisfied, an acceptance/transfer of credits is appropriate under these criteria, the program director generates a course substitution form indicating the source of the credits and the legal specialty course for which it should be accepted as credit and the reason for that recommendation. The award of legal specialty credits through examination or portfolio is not accepted.

Admissions

See the Admission section of this catalog for general admission requirements. Students interested in applying must submit their application online at www.webster.edu/apply.
